BROOKLET BRIEFS

MRS. F. W. HUGHES, Reporter

MY MOTHER
Six letters spell the sweetest word. The word that you have always heard. I hope that I can always be as sweet as she has been to me. I love to sit and watch her face—No other one can take her place. In the home or out of doors. She always helps me with my chores. When it's night and the stars are bright. She will kiss and hold me tight. I love my mother and always will. Her dear, sweet face gives me a thrill.

Get All the Profit

TOP DRESS with POTASH

WHEN cotton begins to rust, profits begin to grow. Save those profits by using from 50-100 lbs. of muriate of potash per acre in a nitrogen-potash top-dresser applied immediately after chopping. Experiments have shown that where potash was applied in the top-dresser the value of the crop was increased $15 to $25 per acre by larger yields, better grade, and longer staple.

The use of potash to control rust and reduce wilt also produces larger bolls that open normally and make the crop easier to pick, thus reducing harvesting costs and increasing profits. Consult your county agent or experiment station about the fertility of your soil. If it did not apply enough potash at planting time to control rust and reduce wilt, see your fertilizer dealer or manufacturer about adding the equivalent of 50-100 lbs. of muriate of potash per acre in a nitrogen-potash top-dresser.

Write us for further information and literature on how to fertilize your crops.

ELIMINATE THE POLL TAX

All over Georgia there are this moment boards in the various counties engaged in the preparation of voters' lists for the next November election. The law directs that those persons who are subject to poll taxes shall be stricken from the list unless such taxes were paid before May 8th, which was six months before the date for the regular election.

There was a time when the payment of all taxes was a prerequisite to the right to vote. The theory of this was that citizens who assisted in carrying the burden of government were entitled to have a voice in the affairs of that government. Unless a person had paid his taxes, he was not regarded as having carried his proper share of the burden. Then taxes gradually came to be less and less popular, and somebody decided to make himself strong with the voters by abolishing the requirement to pay property taxes, leaving only the poll taxes as a prerequisite.

Two years ago in Bulloch county there was a purging of the lists in preparation for the approaching election. Something like five thousand names were challenged as defaulters, and notices were required to be sent to these by legal processes. When the work was completed, it was found that the work of purging the lists had cost the county approximately $4,000 for that year, and that there were approximately that number of voters who had paid the $1 poll tax. This meant that it had cost the county exactly as much to prepare the voters' lists as had been collected from the voters.

But that is only part of the story. The $1 collected from each voter was not placed in the treasury of Bulloch county; it went to the state of Georgia. Bulloch county had paid $4,000 of taxpayers' money to collect $4,000 for the state of Georgia.

At this moment the county registrars in Bulloch county are again engaged in purging the treasury of Bulloch county. Approximately 2,000 notices have been mailed out by the board. The expense for postage, for printing and for salaries of the board members is said by Fred W. Hodges, chairman of the board of commissioners, to be approximately $500. This is paid for by the taxpayers. He tells us that something like $600 has been collected from these delinquents, and that the entire amount will go to the state of Georgia.

So there we are again, Bulloch county is paying $500 of her cash to collect $600 for the state of Georgia. What ought to be done about it? Wouldn't it be the part of wisdom—just simple economy—to abolish the poll tax prerequisite? Why pay poll tax if the other more important taxes are to be left unpaid?

TIED TO THE YEARLING

Two news items appearing in the daily papers on the same date, from widely separated sections of our nation, are possessed of more than casual news interest to members of the Methodist church.

In Atlanta there is given publicity to the steps being taken by a group of Methodists, dissatisfied with the recent consolidation of all the branches of that denomination, to set up an independent organization to carry on according to the traditions of the church to which those individuals have given their loyalty.

From a Vermont community there comes a story of a Methodist pastor who vacated his church on the Sabbath and left the services of the day in the hands of an assistant while he went fishing in a nearby trout stream.

It is exactly such vastly different ideas of correct conduct which make conflict between persons who sometimes believe they are going in the same direction. There will be those who will deprecate the action of those Atlanta Methodists in fighting to the last stand to avoid absorption by a group whose chief justification is its magnitude. Maybe those zealous Atlanta Methodists are in error—certainly their action, if persisted in, means un-Christian strife among people who ought to have no strife. But when you look away to the Vermont church, one of the branches which has been by the recent action of the Southern Methodist Conference brought into fellowship and made a definite part of the great Methodist organization, it is easy to understand how differences in ideas and practices within the household promise even

SAVANNAH BEACH OPENS NEXT WEEK

Program for Opening Date Far More Elaborate Than in Previous Seasons.

The gala opening of Savannah Beach for the current season bids fair to outdo all past events of its kind. The annual opening of this popular resort holds pleasant memories of thousands of grandparents, and each succeeding generation has enjoyed the big day more and more. With good roads from everywhere leading to Savannah Beach, it's just a little ride to the roaring surf, the happy crowds and cooling breezes. This year, on Saturday, May 21st, there'll be better than the usual program—something for every member of the family to remember for years to come. Beginning at 11 o'clock there will be served a free shore dinner, a regular old-fashioned dinner out in the open if weather permits, or inside if nature sends showers. Plenty of the finest, tastiest seafoods for all. Visitors are only asked to call by the Chamber of Commerce office at Savannah Beach and ask for a ticket while registering your name with Mrs. McMillen. Positively no charge.

When everyone has had enough to eat and 2 p. m. rolls around, there will be a bathing beauty contest of a different sort. No one will be asked to register for the contest. Just don your choice bathing costume, ladies, look your prettiest and stroll around on the beach between the hours of 3 to 6 p. m. The judges will do their best to find the most attractive beauties and two fine prizes will be awarded. During this time there will also be held a turtle derby. Lots of these speedy fellows will be turned loose in a big ring. Each will bear a number. Your selection may be the winner to cross the line first. Loads of fun.

Fireworks will be set off as soon as darkness sets in, and when you've enjoyed a while of that, there will be music by a fine orchestra and dancing on the pier out over the waves. Can you imagine a more perfect day for you and your loved ones? Mothers, fathers, children and sweethearts all will have a good time on Saturday at Savannah Beach. Make your plans now to go.

SAFETY CAMPAIGN GAINS POPULARITY

Thousands of Emblems on Georgia Cars Denotes Owners Are Co-operating in Crusade.

Red, white and blue "Pledged to Drive Safely" emblems are now appearing on thousands of automobiles in Georgia, indicating that their owners have pledged themselves to drive safely and co-operating in the Woc-Pep Safety Crusade.

A total of 75,000 of the attractive metal emblems have already been distributed in Georgia and the demand still continues. In the four states of Georgia, Tennessee, North Carolina and South Carolina nearly a quarter of a million of these safety emblems have been distributed. The demand for them was so great that at times during April the supply at some stations was temporarily exhausted.

To get an emblem the motorist signs a pledge to drive his automobile in accordance with common sense rules of highway safety. He is then eligible for a series of monthly contests, in which $1,000 is being given away each month to promote safety-mindedness.

Prize winners in the April contest are expected to be announced within a few days. Seventy-five prizes ranging from cash sums ranging from $250 to $5. A new safety contest was launched May 1st, and motorists of this community are invited to take part. A flood of entries was received in the April contest.

A large percentage of motorists in this section have signed the pledge to drive safely, and new names are being added to the list of safety crusaders every day. The Drive Safely Crusade, the most extensive safety-driving campaign ever launched in this state, was begun April 1st as a public-spirited movement to do something about the terrible toll of deaths and injuries on the highways and streets.

Police traffic squads in various cities have not only endorsed the crusade, but in many cases have signed up 100 per cent.

DONALDSON BE MEMBER TEACHERS COLLEGE STAFF

(Soperton News)

Prof. George Donaldson received notice this week that he has been elected a member of the faculty of the South Georgia Teachers College, Statesboro, and will be in charge of the laboratory school at Denmark in Bulloch county, one of the training schools of the college. This training school is a project sponsored by the Rosenwald Foundation.

Mr. Donaldson was recently re-elected principal of the Soperton High School, and it is a matter of regret that he will not return here to the duties that he has discharged with such signal ability for the past two years. However, his friends rejoice with him in his being selected for this position, and feel assured that he will carry to his new work the will- ingness and competence that have characterized his services here. Mr. Donaldson will attend the summer school session at Columbia University, where he will work on his master's degree.
